

NEWS THAT COMMENT THAT NEWS

Star-Bulletin's Page of Sport

Edited by LAURENCE
REDINGTON

BOTH HORSE AND WAGON SOLDIERS BUSY ON DIAMOND

CAVALRY LEAGUE.

Troop	W.	L.	Pct.
Troop G	4	0	1000
Troop M	4	0	1000
Troop E	3	1	750
Troop D	3	1	750
Troop B	3	2	600
Troop H	3	2	600
Troop C	2	2	500
Troop F	1	3	250
Troop K	1	3	250
Troop L	0	4	000
Troop A	0	5	000

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 3.—Troops G and M continue to hold the lead in the Cavalry league, seemingly unable to lose a game. Both of these troops have strong teams in the field, but many of the others are developing rapidly and the race for the pennant is not going to be a walk-away for any one team. Great interest is being taken in the series and the games have been all well attended by both officers and men.

On Friday Troop A lost to Troop B in a game that was well played up to the seventh inning. A Troop after putting up a fine exhibition of the national pastime blew up in the seventh, making four errors sandwiched in with a hit batsman and two singles which allowed six runs to cross the plate. Peverly and Ronowski both pitched good ball for their teams.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R.H.E.
Troop E.....0 0 0 0 2 6 0 0—8 6 5
Troop A.....1 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—3 6 5
Batteries—Troop E, Ronowski and Matthews; Troop A, Peverly and Gramith.

Saturday afternoon Troop B sent F Troop down the percentage column in a game that was full of excitement from start to finish. F Troop tied the score in the seventh. Donnelly of B Troop after Hoyer had been retired short to first in the eighth inning, picked out a good one and hit it on the nose to left center for three bases. Fay in trying to catch Donnelly at third threw the ball into the bleachers and Donnelly scored. McCoy was hit freely but good fielding kept him out of trouble. Donnelly played a great game at second for his team.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R.H.E.
Troop F.....0 0 0 0 1 1 1 0—5 9 5
Troop B.....3 0 0 0 1 0 2 0—7 6 3
Batteries—Troop B, McCoy and Duncan; Troop F, Richardson and Heald.

Sunday's game was postponed on account of rain. The game of January 25th between C and E Troops was protested by C Troop and the protest allowed. Game will be played over next Friday at the Cavalry cantonment.

Monday Troop H sprang a surprise on D Troop's strong team and won a hard fought game. H Troop was looked upon as pickings for D Troop. The second squadron team hit Bernhis hard when his meat rins and with the assistance of two bad errors by Shortstop Beck sent D Troop into third place. Redford pitched steady ball for his team. Kocalski and Dickinson hit the ball hard, both getting two hits apiece and one of Dickinson's going to deep center for a clean three-bagger. Hynes at third put up a nice game for H Troop.

Lord of D Troop was badly upkicked in the fifth by Hynes, who slid into the bag first.

Score by innings:
R.H.E.
Troop H.....1 0 0 0 0 2 0 0—6 9 7
Troop D.....0 2 0 0 0 0 3 0—5 9 5
Batteries—Troop H, Kocalski and Redford; Troop D, Berchus and Clark. Artillery Starts Series.

The 1st Field Artillery series commenced yesterday afternoon with a double-header, A Battery winning the first game from F by a score of 8 to 7, and B Battery winning from D 14 to 5.

The first game was close and exciting, the teams being evenly matched and alternating in the lead.

Score by Innings:
R.H.E.
Battery F.....2 0 2 0 0 3 0 0—7 5 3
Battery A.....1 3 1 1 0 2 0 0—8 7 6
Batteries—Battery F, Adams and Staples; Battery A, Flech and Schuler.

The second game was a walkaway for B Battery. Eight runs were made in the first inning before D Battery could settle down and Veneman was found for 13 safeties.

The score by Innings:
R.H.E.
Bat'y B.....3 1 0 2 0 0 0—14 13 1
Bat'y D.....3 0 0 0 0 0 0—5 4 3
Batteries—Battery B, Michalek, Stoll and Pouquette; Battery D, Veneman, Schults and Palmer.

Serjt. Hollingsworth of the 25th Infantry umpired both games in excellent fashion and at no time were any of his decisions subject to the slightest dispute.

GUARD INDOOR BASEBALL

Companies D and G of the 1st Infantry, N. G. H., will play off their postponed game in the Guard indoor baseball league this evening at 8:45. This game was originally scheduled for January 12.

Railroad bridges in the state of Oaxaca, Mexico, and the only tunnel on the railroad across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec have been blown up by Mexican soldiers.

WEST ENDERS LOSE TO THE EAST END MEN

The East End club league bowling team took two of the three games from the West Enders on the Y. M. C. A. alleys last evening. Most of the club leaguers are new bowlers who are out to learn the game and every one present last night enjoyed the sport.

Maby showed the best form and his score of 188 in the second game was the highest of the evening. His average was also high, 153. Benson came second for the winners with an even 400.

Christy averaged 144 for the West Enders with Urlice only two points behind. Lambert and Coe tied for high score, 176. The next club league match takes place Tuesday, February 9, between the West End and L. P. C. teams.

Tonight the Honolulu roll against the Cosmos quintet in the big league series. The Honolulu will bowl Leslie Scott, captain; C. C. Clark, W. Williams, H. E. Scott, Geo. K. Mills, J. P. Winne and C. A. Franz. The Cosmos lineup will include C. H. Atherton, captain; B. Bernal, Francis Franks, Edgar Methven, Frank Chudy, J. J. Smith and Glenn Jackson. Tomorrow evening Chamberlain's Colts and the P. B. C. will meet in an important match. Last night's scores:

—Games—

	1st	2nd	3rd	Tot.
East End	146	188	126	460
Maby	134	120	98	352
Villiers	133	151	116	400
Benson	96	97	138	331
Lowrie	127	139	120	386
Dummy	636	695	598	1929

—Games—

	1st	2nd	3rd	Tot.
West Enders	92	178	130	398
Lambert	159	138	135	432
Cristy	63	79	113	255
Doe	176	102	107	385
Coe	124	133	168	425
Urlice	614	628	653	1895

DOROTHY BECKER VERY KEEN FOR HAWAIIAN TRIP

Miss Dorothy Becker, the coast swimming champion, is expected here next Monday morning, accompanied by her mother, and the latter has written to Director-General James D. Dougherty of the carnival regarding the prospective trip.

The letter follows:
San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 25, 1915.
Mr. James Dougherty,
Dear Sir: Your letter received Saturday and Sunday Mr. Coffman gave us the order for transportation which we attended to today. Mr. Becker and myself wish to thank you and all others for your kindness in sending for Dorothy to come to your islands. It is a great honor and our daughter is as happy as can be. She is anxious and willing to do all she can in return to entertain you with her fancy diving and other branches of her aquatic training, in which she excels other girls here.

Dorothy was 15 years old the 12th of this month and we feel you will not be disappointed in her in any respect.

Mr. Rawlins and others have met her here and we look forward to her having one of the happiest trips she will ever take and we feel that it is a great honor to have her come and race against Miss Stacker and your other swimmers, of whom she has heard so much.

Yours truly,
MRS. R. J. BECKER.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS TO ESTABLISH NEW CLUB

With the approval of the post commander at Fort Shafter, Victor Whitaker has applied to Territorial Treasurer C. J. McCarthy for a club license to sell malt liquor at club rooms to be established on the Fort Shafter military reservation. The clubhouse is to be built for Col. Francis W. Mansfield Camp No. 2, Department of Hawaii, United Spanish War Veterans, and the business will be conducted under the direct supervision of the post commander at the fort.

In his application Whitaker promises that liquor will be sold only to bona fide members and that he will comply with all restrictions placed upon him by the post commander and the laws of the territory.

Five hundred female inmates of the New York State Reformatory at Bedford Hills, are being allowed to skate, sleigh and frolic on the grounds.

The Japanese cabinet has designated Rear Admiral Baron Shigeto Dewa, one of Japan's distinguished naval officers, special envoy to the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Governor Whitman of New York will go to the Panama-Pacific Exposition in May if the legislature has adjourned by that time.

FRANK GOTCH GIVES SOME VALUABLE TRAINING HINTS

Frank Gotch, world's champion wrestler, in a recent talk to the students of Ames University on the subject of athletic training revealed some interesting data as to his method. Gotch disagrees with some of the noted physical culture exponents on present day methods and incidentally gives the system a rap. The following are Gotch's ideas on the subject:

"I dare say," declares Gotch, "that if each man should take on himself the responsibility of being his own trainer he would be a much better athlete than he would otherwise. If it were possible for the coaches to study the needs and characteristics of the individual man and work with each one as a unit instead of training them as a group, the present day athletes would be superior to what they are now."

"My own personal methods of training are not applicable to the college man, for he has such a short time to prepare himself for an athletic event, but this much of my training methods he can adopt, that of being his own trainer."

"I have found it a great pleasure to solve the problems of my own physical machine, to find out just what it ought to do and just what it ought not to do. During my training I was always careful not to overtax my strength. For instance, one day I would take 20 miles of road work and the next day five. When I started out I discovered just how much I could stand and I never was all in."

"A man should quit training feeling vigorous, snappy and full of life, and not like the present day athlete, who is told to quit after the coach has worked him until all worn out and exhausted."

"Defeat is a good thing for an athlete. A reversal instills a greater amount of fighting spirit into a man. When I first started in the wrestling game I took three good beatings, and it was the best thing that ever happened to me. I then learned to fight my battles alone and to fight gamely. I have a son of 10 months of age, whom I want to see get his share of the knocks in this world, so that he can fight and not back down in adversity."

"Tobacco should not be used in any form. It was my hardest task to abandon my tobacco smoking habits."

"Moderation in wrestling is good for the college man, but too much of it is bad. I believe that wrestling takes in to action every part of the body better than any other form of athletics. Wrestling is good for the college man for he limits himself to 15 minutes of it in a good stiff manner. That is all he should take at one time."

"To the college man who achieves greatness in athletics I give the greatest credit. He is carrying twice the load I carried when I was following the wrestling game. He has mental and physical tasks, while I only had the latter. But above all, in order to achieve greatness in athletics a man must live a clean, wholesome life."

"I have found it a great pleasure to solve the problems of my own physical machine, to find out just what it ought to do and just what it ought not to do. During my training I was always careful not to overtax my strength. For instance, one day I would take 20 miles of road work and the next day five. When I started out I discovered just how much I could stand and I never was all in."

"A man should quit training feeling vigorous, snappy and full of life, and not like the present day athlete, who is told to quit after the coach has worked him until all worn out and exhausted."

"Defeat is a good thing for an athlete. A reversal instills a greater amount of fighting spirit into a man. When I first started in the wrestling game I took three good beatings, and it was the best thing that ever happened to me. I then learned to fight my battles alone and to fight gamely. I have a son of 10 months of age, whom I want to see get his share of the knocks in this world, so that he can fight and not back down in adversity."

"Tobacco should not be used in any form. It was my hardest task to abandon my tobacco smoking habits."

"Moderation in wrestling is good for the college man, but too much of it is bad. I believe that wrestling takes in to action every part of the body better than any other form of athletics. Wrestling is good for the college man for he limits himself to 15 minutes of it in a good stiff manner. That is all he should take at one time."

"To the college man who achieves greatness in athletics I give the greatest credit. He is carrying twice the load I carried when I was following the wrestling game. He has mental and physical tasks, while I only had the latter. But above all, in order to achieve greatness in athletics a man must live a clean, wholesome life."

"I have found it a great pleasure to solve the problems of my own physical machine, to find out just what it ought to do and just what it ought not to do. During my training I was always careful not to overtax my strength. For instance, one day I would take 20 miles of road work and the next day five. When I started out I discovered just how much I could stand and I never was all in."

"A man should quit training feeling vigorous, snappy and full of life, and not like the present day athlete, who is told to quit after the coach has worked him until all worn out and exhausted."

"Defeat is a good thing for an athlete. A reversal instills a greater amount of fighting spirit into a man. When I first started in the wrestling game I took three good beatings, and it was the best thing that ever happened to me. I then learned to fight my battles alone and to fight gamely. I have a son of 10 months of age, whom I want to see get his share of the knocks in this world, so that he can fight and not back down in adversity."

"Tobacco should not be used in any form. It was my hardest task to abandon my tobacco smoking habits."

"Moderation in wrestling is good for the college man, but too much of it is bad. I believe that wrestling takes in to action every part of the body better than any other form of athletics. Wrestling is good for the college man for he limits himself to 15 minutes of it in a good stiff manner. That is all he should take at one time."

"To the college man who achieves greatness in athletics I give the greatest credit. He is carrying twice the load I carried when I was following the wrestling game. He has mental and physical tasks, while I only had the latter. But above all, in order to achieve greatness in athletics a man must live a clean, wholesome life."

"I have found it a great pleasure to solve the problems of my own physical machine, to find out just what it ought to do and just what it ought not to do. During my training I was always careful not to overtax my strength. For instance, one day I would take 20 miles of road work and the next day five. When I started out I discovered just how much I could stand and I never was all in."

"A man should quit training feeling vigorous, snappy and full of life, and not like the present day athlete, who is told to quit after the coach has worked him until all worn out and exhausted."

"Defeat is a good thing for an athlete. A reversal instills a greater amount of fighting spirit into a man. When I first started in the wrestling game I took three good beatings, and it was the best thing that ever happened to me. I then learned to fight my battles alone and to fight gamely. I have a son of 10 months of age, whom I want to see get his share of the knocks in this world, so that he can fight and not back down in adversity."

COMPANIES H, E AID M STILL IN 1ST INF. LEAD

1ST INFANTRY LEAGUE.

Company	W.	L.	Pct.
Company H	7	0	1000
Company E	5	0	1000
Company M	3	0	1000
Company C	4	1	800
Company F	2	2	500
Company G	2	3	400
Company B	2	3	400
Company D	1	5	167
Company L	0	1	000
Company I	0	3	000
Company A	0	4	000
Company K	0	4	000

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 3.—Every afternoon that weather and Uncle Sam permit the baseball fans of the 1st Infantry flock to the new ball diamond that they are so justly proud of and spend an hour or more in healthy lung exercise during the progress of the inter-company baseball games. With a few exceptions the games have been excellent exhibitions of the national pastime.

Friday afternoon C Company won from G 7 to 5, making the fourth straight victory for C Company. This company has lost but one game, and that to H Company by a single run in one of the earlier games of the series.

The A and F Company game scheduled for Saturday morning was postponed on account of the garrison review. Saturday afternoon M Company walked away from D with a 17 to 2 score.

Rain put a stop to baseball on Sunday so that B and L companies' game will have to be played later in the schedule.

Monday H Company gained another victory, winning from K Company 10 to 3. Orel on the mound for H Company struckout 19 men and allowed but 5 hits. Two errors were made behind him and nine errors were chalked up against K Company. With this string of errors and H Company's 14 hits, the K Company ball team was lucky not to have more than 10 runs scored against them. The batteries were, for Company H, Orel and Buckland; for Company K, Hollenbach and Boughan. Debo of E Company proved a very satisfactory umpire.

Two games of basketball are scheduled for this afternoon in the service league, the opener being called at 2:30 on the armory court.

In the first game the Signal Corps and Fort Armstrong teams will hook up and in the closer the Engineers will play the Department Hospital.

Thursday night there will be another double header that promises interesting basketball. The 2nd Infantry plays the Signal Corps and De Russy plays the National Guard on this date.

A bill appropriating $5000 for the relief of the Italian earthquake sufferers was introduced in the Rhode Island legislature and was referred to a committee.

The appointment of Dr. Karl Helfferich, director of the Deutscher Bank, as secretary of the imperial treasury, is impending, according to the overseas news agency.

Members of the University of Pennsylvania crew will be inoculated with typhoid vaccine to make them immune from typhoid which last year broke up a powerful crew.

More than 14,000 employees of the Grand Trunk Railroad and thousands of men employed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad have refused to accept reductions in pay.

he became one of the most effective pitchers in the big league, for he always had a world of speed. But the name "Wild Bill" still stuck, as a nickname often will, in spite of the fact that he could cut the corners with the best of them.

Donovan made a careful study of the game, and Hugh Jennings is responsible for the statement that he was one of the craftiest boxmen ever to work for him. Bill went through several successful seasons, and then his "slopbone" began to go back on him. In the meantime the Detroit management had purchased the Providence club in the International League and it had turned out to be a hopeless tailender. The Detroit management had intended this as a farm for its young players, but did not like the idea of owning a tailend minor league club, since there is no money in this position on any circuit. As Donovan's days of big league usefulness had passed, he was put in charge of the Providence team, and, beside the weak aggregation he was handling then, the New York Americans look like pennant winners at present.

Donovan got his name of Wild Bill from the fact that, when he first broke into baseball, his control was bad, and he came near sending two or three batters to the morgue by hitting them with pitched balls. If there is one thing that a big leaguer hates, it is to face a pitcher whose control is uncertain. There is an old theory in baseball that once a man has been beamed he will always afterward be bad shy. There are too many examples of this to require citing, but I will point out the case of a young shortstop named Jack Martin, once with the Yankees, who was full of promise until Walter Johnson beamed him. There was at another time a pitcher with the New York Americans named Schultz, a left hander, and he used to beat the Athletics right along principally through his lack of control, which sounds funny.

"I don't want to hit against that bird," said Eddie Collins to me once. "You can't tell whether he is going to pop you in the head or throw the ball into the grand stand."

When Roger Bresnahan was with the Giants he used to suggest to me occasionally that I try to hit a batter so that they would not feel any too safe when they came up to the plate.

"Nick one once in a while, Matty," he would advise me, "and they won't stand up there so confident. Make them stick their foot in the water plate and then you can slip a strike over once in a while without them being so sure you are not going to beam them."

Set Out to Get Control.
Now to come back to "Wild Bill" Donovan. As I have said, when Donovan first broke in, his control was not his biggest asset, and he had the batters who faced him worried. They used to complain about this.

"Here's this 'Wild Bill' Donovan working today," a batter would mutter, "and I don't know whether I will go home in the club bus, an ambulance or a hearse. It all depends on how fast I am in getting out of the way of those wild ones."

But "Bill," being a smart pitcher, and realizing that the other clubs were waiting him out every time he went to the box, knew that if he would last in the big league he must get control. He went to work to acquire this and it was not long before he had as nice control as any pitcher on the Detroit staff. He did not lose any of his speed in acquiring this, and so stand and I never was all in. "A man should quit training feeling vigorous, snappy and full of life, and not like the present day athlete, who is told to quit after the coach has worked him until all worn out and exhausted."

"Defeat is a good thing for an athlete. A reversal instills a greater amount of fighting spirit into a man. When I first started in the wrestling game I took three good beatings, and it was the best thing that ever happened to me. I then learned to fight my battles alone and to fight gamely. I have a son of 10 months of age, whom I want to see get his share of the knocks in this world, so that he can fight and not back down in adversity."

"Tobacco should not be used in any form. It was my hardest task to abandon my tobacco smoking habits."

91ST COMPANY WINS 12-FRAME BASEBALL GAME

In a game last Sunday that held its spectators in suspense for 12 innings, the 91st Company, C. A. C., finally noosed out the All-Stars from the 75th and 143d Companies, by a score of 8 to 4.

While several spectacular plays were pulled off the one made by Critchfield, third-sacker for the 91st, in making a running one-hand catch of a foul behind the catcher's line was easily the star feature of the day.

The block score:
All-Stars—AB R H P O A E
Bray, cf.....6 2 2 3 0 0
Hay, lf.....6 3 2 1 0 0
Grace, 2b.....6 1 0 6 2 1
Kasper, ss.....6 1 2 2 1 4
Baker, p-3b.....6 0 1 3 1 0
Strickland, p-3b.....6 0 1 2 3 2
Moore, c.....5 0 1 5 0 0
Carter, rf.....5 0 0 1 0 0
Grams, 1b.....5 0 1 12 1 2
Totals.....51 7 10 25 8 9
*Two out when winning run scored.

91st Co.—AB R H P O A E
Christenson, cf.....8 1 1 0 0 0
Wellington, 1b.....6 1 1 10 0 1
Ludlam, 2b.....6 0 2 1 0 2
Critchfield, 3b.....6 2 2 6 6 1
Gauthier, ss.....6 1 0 7 3 0
Speaks, rf.....6 0 0 0 0 1
Jones, lf.....6 1 1 0 0 0
Keller, c.....6 1 1 10 0 0
Klein, p.....6 1 2 2 5 0
Totals.....54 8 10 36 14 5
Score by Innings:
All-Stars.....2 0 0 0 2 3 0 0 0 0—7
91st Co.....0 0 1 1 2 3 0 0 0 1—8
Summary—Bases on balls, off Klein 3, off Strickland 1; stolen bases, Keller, Wellington, Gauthier, Jones and Klein; wild pitches, Klein 1, Strickland 1; double plays, Strickland to Baker, Klein to Gauthier to Wellington; Innings pitched, by Strickland 7, by Baker 5, by Klein 12.

Ten Englishmen, in an official capacity, secured positions with ammunition factories in Waterbury, Conn., to observe American methods of manufacturing brass shells.

More than 14,000 employees of the Grand Trunk Railroad and thousands of men employed by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad have refused to accept reductions in pay.

he became one of the most effective pitchers in the big league, for he always had a world of speed. But the name "Wild Bill" still stuck, as a nickname often will, in spite of the fact that he could cut the corners with the best of them.

Donovan made a careful study of the game, and Hugh Jennings is responsible for the statement that he was one of the craftiest boxmen ever to work for him. Bill went through several successful seasons, and then his "slopbone" began to go back on him. In the meantime the Detroit management had purchased the Providence club in the International League and it had turned out to be a hopeless tailender. The Detroit management had intended this as a farm for its young players, but did not like the idea of owning a tailend minor league club, since there is no money in this position on any circuit. As Donovan's days of big league usefulness had passed, he was put in charge of the Providence team, and, beside the weak aggregation he was handling then, the New York Americans look like pennant winners at present.

Donovan got his name of Wild Bill from the fact that, when he first broke into baseball, his control was bad, and he came near sending two or three batters to the morgue by hitting them with pitched balls. If there is one thing that a big leaguer hates, it is to face a pitcher whose control is uncertain. There is an old theory in baseball that once a man has been beamed he will always afterward be bad shy. There are too many examples of this to require citing, but I will point out the case of a young shortstop named Jack Martin, once with the Yankees, who was full of promise until Walter Johnson beamed him. There was at another time a pitcher with the New York Americans named Schultz, a left hander, and he used to beat the Athletics right along principally through his lack of control, which sounds funny.

"I don't want to hit against that bird," said Eddie Collins to me once. "You can't tell whether he is going to pop you in the head or throw the ball into the grand stand."

When Roger Bresnahan was with the Giants he used to suggest to me occasionally that I try to hit a batter so that they would not feel any too safe when they came up to the plate.

"Nick one once in a while, Matty," he would advise me, "and they won't stand up there so confident. Make them stick their foot in the water plate and then you can slip a strike over once in a while without them being so sure you are not going to beam them."

Set Out to Get Control.
Now to come back to "Wild Bill" Donovan. As I have said, when Donovan first broke in, his control was not his biggest asset, and he had the batters who faced him worried. They used to complain about this.

"Here's this 'Wild Bill' Donovan working today," a batter would mutter, "and I don't know whether I will go home in the club bus, an ambulance or a hearse. It all depends on how fast I am in getting out of